Americans for Prosperity Applauds U.S. Senate Candidate Tom Cox

-Signs No Climate Tax Pledge-

ROGERS-The Arkansas chapter of the grassroots free-market organization Americans for Prosperity (AFP-AR) today applauded U.S. Senate Candidate Tom Cox for signing the group's "No Climate Tax Pledge." Cox joins over 241 lawmakers on the federal, state and local levels pledging to "oppose legislation relating to climate change that includes a net increase in government revenue."

"The one thing elected officials should all be able to agree on is that global warming shouldn't be used as an excuse to hike taxes on citizens and businesses," said AFP-AR State Director Teresa Crossland-Oelke. "We encourage all of Arkansas's elected officials and candidates for elected office to sign the pledge."

Cap-and-trade took its first step toward enactment when the U.S. House narrowly passed the Waxman-Markey energy bill, which escaped the lower chamber by a scant seven votes despite significant bipartisan opposition. However, key Democratic senators have expressed opposition to attempting to pass cap-and-trade this year. President Obama has made no secret of his support for the bill, which would be the largest tax increase in American history. The non-partisan Congressional Budget Office has scored the plan as an $846 billion increase in federal revenue, a burden that will be borne by taxpayers and consumers for decades to come.

"Using the guise of climate change to transfer dollars from hard-working citizens to bureaucratic big government is unacceptable," said Crossland-Oelke. "Regardless of their stance on global warming, this should be common ground for all of our elected officials at all levels of government."

The pledge is available online at www.NoClimateTax.com. AFP does not endorse candidates. All elected officials and candidates are encouraged to sign the pledge and go on the record in opposition to using the climate change issue to increase taxes and grow the size of government.
